RELEVANT EXPERIENCE

Deloitte Consulting LLP | Big Four Professional Services Firm Washington, D.C. and Seattle, WA

Consultant, Government and Public Services

Aug 2019 – Present (Full-time)

- Built a Tableau dashboard to help clients to diagnose schedule delays and cost overruns in their 70+ engineering projects and to develop more specific strategies to improve the overall health of their ~$25M project portfolio.
 - Led a team of 2 consultants and 2 technical analysts in writing a white paper evaluating the costs and benefits of replacing a client's legacy data management system with a new GIS-based tool to improve the overall user experience and streamline data requests and reporting.
 - Conducted housing market research to support a pro-bono consulting teams' development of a homesharing startup's methodology for identifying potential U.S. entry markets via Deloitte's partnership with Halcyon House, a Washington, D.C.-based social impact incubator.
 - Coordinated with client engineers and analysts to create a new master budgeting spreadsheet that uses client-planned investment data – including project geographies, priority levels, and cost estimates – to automatically generate 5-year client investment plans with built-in scenario testing.
 - Estimated costs for a $155M+ contract option year in support of a major federal IT investment, which required co-facilitating the elicitation of 350+ technical requirements and workshopping staffing needs with program managers across 8 integrated project teams.
 - Leads a team of 8 consultants in providing pro-bono strategy and operations consulting to a Chilean urban environmental design nonprofit via the D2international program, Deloitte's flagship international social impact program. Guides the team through clarifying client business processes, workshopping client value propositions, and recommending donor engagement strategies to promote the client's sustained growth.
 - Writes communication materials for federal clients to share with external stakeholders, including state governments, Congress, the Government Accountability Office, and other federal agencies.
